Introduction

Interviewer: This interview is being recorded. Please state your name and role.

Interviewee: Marla Chen. I'm the store manager.

Interviewer: Date and time for the record: 2026-01-02T09:05:00-05:00. Do you understand you're here to provide a statement about the incident?

Interviewee: Yes.

Interviewer: If you don't know an answer, say so. If you need a break, tell me. Agreed?

Interviewee: Agreed.

Background Questions

Interviewer: How long have you worked at this store?

Interviewee: A few years. I manage scheduling, deposits, vendor paperwork, and floor issues.

Interviewer: What are your normal hours?

Interviewee: Mostly day shift. I'm usually in before noon and leave early evening.

Interviewer: Who typically has access to back-office areas?

Interviewee: Managers and key-holders. Cashiers can enter with a manager present. Stock staff usually stays on the floor or stock area.

Interviewer: What systems do you rely on to track what happens in the store?

Interviewee: Camera coverage and register reports. Also staff schedules and store logs.

Interviewer: Have you reviewed any materials already?

Interviewee: I looked at the incident-related camera clips that were pulled for review, including EV003, and the store documentation that was set aside, including EV004.

Incident Questions

Interviewer: Walk me through what you remember about the incident timeline.

Interviewee: I wasn't present for the initial event. I was notified after it was discovered and I came in to handle reporting and preservation.

Interviewer: When were you first alerted?

Interviewee: I received a call during my off-hours. I can't quote the exact minute without checking, but it was before I arrived to meet with staff.

Interviewer: What did you do first after being notified?

Interviewee: I told staff not to move anything related to the issue, and I requested camera footage be preserved. I also separated out paperwork and any related logs so they wouldn't be thrown away.

Interviewer: What did you personally observe when you arrived?

Interviewee: I observed staff were anxious. I verified the area that was reportedly involved was secured. I then checked that the video system was still running.

Interviewer: Did you review video at that time?

Interviewee: I viewed portions later with another employee. The clip set we preserved is what I understand is cataloged as EV003.

Interviewer: Did you identify any missing or abnormal store documentation?

Interviewee: I noticed discrepancies between what staff said should be present and what they could immediately locate. I placed the documents that were available into a folder, which is part of EV004.

Interviewer: Were there any items you believe could help corroborate staff movement or access?

Interviewee: Badge or key access isn't logged in a way that helps here. It's mainly cameras, register reports, and statements.

Alibi Verification

Interviewer: Where were you during the time window of the incident as defined in the case timeline (see events E002 and E003)?

Interviewee: I was not at the store. I was off-site, handling personal errands, then at home.

Interviewer: Can anyone confirm your whereabouts during that period?

Interviewee: A family member can confirm I was home later. For earlier, I was alone for some errands.

Interviewer: Did you return to the store at any point during that window?

Interviewee: No.

Interviewer: When you did arrive at the store after the report, what time was that?

Interviewee: I arrived after the notification and after the initial discovery. I can provide an exact time if you compare my call records and the timeline points. I understand the key sequence is documented around E004 and E006.

Interviewer: Have you handled any of the physical items that were later logged as evidence, such as EV006, EV008, EV011, or EV012?

Interviewee: I did not handle anything physical beyond organizing paperwork and ensuring the video was preserved. If those items were collected, that would have been by the responding personnel, not me.

Closing

Interviewer: Is there anything you want to add that we didn't cover?

Interviewee: Only that I want the record to be clear: my priority was to keep the information intact—video, paperwork, and staff recollections.

Interviewer: Any concerns about retaliation or workplace issues that might relate?

Interviewee: Nothing specific. There's normal stress, but no ongoing conflict I'm aware of.

Interviewer: If we need to follow up about EV003 or EV004, are you available?

Interviewee: Yes.

Interviewer: This concludes the interview on 2026-01-02T09:05:00-05:00.

Interviewee: Understood.

Interview concluded at 10:21. Subject provided voluntary statement. No coercion or duress observed.
